1. Content Update

New charts have been added to each of the four books. In the 3rd Quarter the chart on “Textual Criticism” was replaced with a chart on “King James Version and non-KJV.”

2. Format Update

Book Organization: The location of the front matter prior to the start of the Daily Lesson study pages is the same, except for additional sections in the 1st and 4th Quarter books. The location of the Appendices in the back of the book is the same.

Daily Study Lesson Identifiers: Identifiers have been changed from using dates associated with NLT One Year Chronological Bible to using a number label from 1 to 52. “Appendix D: Correlation Chart—Daily Lessons with One-Year Bible” connects the old with the new.

3. Language Update

The language of sensitive words has been changed to reflect the more conservative version of words as presented in the King James Version (KJV) Bible. For example, the word “prostitute” as shown in the NLT Bible was changed to “harlot” as shown in KJV.

4. I-Sources Update

In the first edition books, the full URL addresses for all Internet Sources (I-Sources) were included. Each I-Source has been checked for their 2024 status. If the addresses were still valid, then the address was updated to show the full title of the article with URL location of the source’s homepage. In this manner the reader should be able to go to the homepage and search for the article. If the addresses were no longer valid, comments regarding the past and current statuses were included in “Appendix C: Endnotes and References.”

5. Love Letter

Author Jennifer B. Price’s Labor of Love Letter

Every word, sentence, paragraph, space, punctuation mark... EVERYTHING... in this work has been typed, reviewed and updated as needed for this second edition by Jennifer B. Price.

With much fasting and prayer, I, the author, allowed God’s Holy Spirit to lead this 2024 update, helping me identify all content that was unclear or misprinted in the first editions.

I have passionately done my best, as a Teacher, commissioned by my Heavenly Father and my Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, to present this work with “rightly divided” commentary and explanations on His Word, and to do so in a manner that Youth and Adults can enjoy together.

Regarding grammar imperfections: For any extra parenthesis, misplaced comma, or any grammar or format error that you find, I pray that you will forgive the error, and that you are able to understand the commentary despite the error.

Finally, it is my earnest prayer that you will be inspired to grow in knowing God, as you grow in knowing His Word because of what this work presents to you.
